

How Nonprofits Are Coping With the Turbulent Economy

How Nonprofits Are Coping With the Turbulent Economy

The Struggle to Aid All Who Need Help

For the first time in the five years of the survey, more than half of charities said they couldn't serve everyone who asked for assistance last year, and even more are expecting a shortfall in 2013.

March 2013

Actions Nonprofits Are Taking to Bolster Their Finances

